VOLUNTEER

Now for a journey that can make a real difference to our world. Volunteering gives you the chance to take on new adventures, see the world and share your compassion with those that need it most. The most valuable thing you can give someone is your time and even a few weeks abroad will make a huge impact. Rescuing wild animals, caring for orphans, saving rainforests, meeting monkeys, assisting school kids or even looking out for the big guys like bears, elephants and rhinos will make a positive impact. It will be one of the most rewarding challenges for you and the biggest blessing for those you meet along the way.

“Life begins at the end of your comfort zone.”

VOLUNTEER IN AFRICA

Volunteering in Africa means making a positive impact towards wildlife conservation and humanitarian efforts to create a social change! Get ready to head off on a wild safari to get up close and personal with incredible wildlife across conservation parks throughout Africa. You will also get the chance to meet some truly beautiful locals with endless tales to tell and traditions that date back centuries. This experience is genuine to the heart of Africa and will be in your heart forever!
Volunteer in Asia where you can explore an untouched paradise, ancient temples and enjoy a daily dose of the delicious local foods. Make a change and care for rescued elephants & street dogs, educate local children by developing their communities and so much more. There is no better feeling than experiencing a new place but to be a part of creating a better world will be a handful of moments you will never forget.

For those that love salt, sand and the sea... A volunteer experience in Europe is exactly what you need! Explore the depths of the deep blue sea to learn about marine conservation, the impact tourism takes on the reef, meet some interesting marine life, learn a new language, enjoy daily siestas to keep you feeling fresh and explore everything else that Europe has on offer. This is the perfect spot for anyone wanting to hang with new friends that are also volunteering, exploring and enjoy a trip that others will wish they were on with you!

Embrace the beauty of Central America and find yourself volunteering in Costa Rica! You have the chance to be part of an incredible social change by educating yourself, others in the local community and the rest of the world about important turtle conservation. With beautiful jungles filled with waterfalls, untouched beaches, old time traditions and local legends in the area this will certainly be the first of many explorations to the Central Americas!
Take a trek through festive South America and explore all over the wild continent. Meet local indigenous tribes, visit seaside towns, become part of local communities, learn about the Ancient Mayans, speak new languages and be an agent for change. This is also a perfect opportunity to lend a hand to injured or abandoned wildlife and give them a second chance at a wonderful life.

Island hopping in the South Pacific? Yes please! Even better you will get to enjoy these beautiful small town communities and make an impact with your amazing generosity. Spend time getting to understand a totally different culture whilst soaking in the sun during the day and getting lost in a stunning sunset every single night! Just the scenery alone will give you a new definition of beauty, add the friendly hospitality of some island locals and you have got yourself a new home away from home for the rest of your life!
